13. CLASSIFICATION OF RIFLES:

SERVICE RIFLE RULE CHANGES FOR 2016 (Summary)

Optical Sights For Service Rifles. For several years, the CMP and NRA have recognized that optical sights are the wave of the future for Service Rifle shooting. Military recruits today do all of their training with optical sighted rifles. Service Rifle rules have traditionally tried to keep abreast of military rifle and training developments so opening Service Rifle shooting to optical sights became an inevitable change.

The 2016 rules will, for the first time, permit M16/AR15-type rifles to have optical sights with a maximum magnification of 4.5X. Legal scopes can be fixed power or variable, but the maximum power of variable scopes may not exceed 4.5X. Scopes will have to be manufactured with a maximum 4.5X magnification and have an objective lens no larger than 34 mm. There will not be a separate class for scope-sighted service rifles. Instead, competitors will have a choice of using either a scope-sighted rifle or a metallic sighted service rifles.

More Options For M16/AR15-Type Rifles. Since accurized Service Rifles first came into popular use, in the 1950's and 1960's, those rifles, whether M1's, M14's or M16's and their commercial equivalents, have been rigidly defined.

Legal M16-type service rifles had to retain the external profile of an M16A2 or M16A4 rifle and could only have modifications that were explicitly permitted in the rules. All this has changed in 2016. The 2016 service rifle rules state that M16/AR15-type Rifles must be "an M16 U. S. Service Rifle or a similar AR15 type commercial rifle that is derived from the M16 service rifle design" and there will be far fewer specific restrictions. 2016 restrictions will simply require M16/AR15-type rifles that:

- Are chambered for the 5.56 x 45 mm (.223) NATO cartridge.
- Are designed or modified for semi-automatic fire only.
- Have either a gas-impingement system or a piston-operated gas system.
- Have a barrel that is no longer than 20 inches, with or without a flash suppressor (16" barrels are permitted).
- Use one upper receiver and barrel for the entire match.
- Have a trigger pull of at least 4.5 pounds.

U.S. Police and Fire Championships

- Use standard service magazines or commercial equivalents that do not contain added weights.
- Have a fixed or collapsible butt-stock that may vary in length and even be adjusted between firing stages. Butt-plates or cheek-pieces may not, however, be adjustable.
- Have a standard A1 or A2 pistol grip.

This will open the way for competitors to use a wider variety of M16/AR-16-type rifles and there is NO weight limit for scope-sighted rifle.

M14 or M1A Service Rifle Rules. For competitors who prefer to use M14 or M1A rifles, those rules are somewhat simplified, but remain essentially the same. The optical sight option is not available for these rifles.

NRA High Power Rifle Classifications (NRA Rule 3.1 Service Rifle) - As issued by the U.S. Armed Forces, or the same type and caliber of commercially manufactured rifle, having not less than 4 1/2 pound trigger pull, with standard type stock and standard type leather or web sling. External alterations to the assembled arm will not be allowed. The application of synthetic coatings, which includes those containing powdered metal, to the interior of the stock to improve bedding is authorized provided the coating does not interfere with the function or operation of safety features. The front and rear sights must be the standard or National Match design, but may vary in dimensions of rear sight aperture and front sight blade. The rear sight aperture may be hooded. The internal parts of the rifle may be specially fitted and include alterations that will improve the functioning and accuracy of the arm, provided such alterations in no way interfere with the proper functioning of the safety devices as manufactured. The rifle must be so modified as to be incapable of automatic fire without removing, replacing, or altering parts. The gas system must be fully operational.

(a) U.S. Rifle, Caliber .30 M-1, or caliber 7.62mm M-1 - A device consisting of a modified cartridge clip that is intended to permit single loading from the clip into the chamber during slow fire is considered an internal alteration to improve functioning and is permissible under this rule.

(b) U.S. Rifle, Caliber 7.62 mm M-14 - Must be no more than 2 inches wide at a point immediately to the rear of the front band, no more than 2.5 inches wide at the front and rear of the receiver, and have a continuous taper from receiver to front band. Width at receiver may be carried through to the butt plate, which may be the flat M-1 or hinged M-14 plate, which will be used only in the folded position. In all courses and in all positions the standard 10 or 20-round box magazine or a reduced capacity magazine of the same external dimensions will be allowed. For stock dimension see diagram in illustrations.

(c) U.S. Rifle, Caliber 5.56mm M-16 series –

- Must be chambered for the 5.56 x 45 mm NATO (.223) cartridge,
- The gas operation system must be fully operable and adhere to the original M-16 rifle design (i.e. Stoner design, gas impingement system) or have a piston-operated gas system.
- The receiver must be separately machined from the handguard; the two parts must be separable.
- The barrel may be no longer than 20 inches; flash suppressors are not required, but if the barrel has a flash suppressor, it shall not be included in the barrel length measurement.
- Upper receivers and barrels may not be changed during the firing of any event.
- Metal or synthetic (polymer) magazines, standard issued or commercial equivalent, with standard service 20 or 30-round box magazine dimensions must be attached during the firing of all courses and in all positions. A 10-round magazine with the extra external dimensions as a standard service 20-round box magazine may be used. A dummy magazine with a ramp for single shot loading may be used if this magazine has the same external dimensions as the standard service 20-round box magazine. Magazines may not contain added weights.
- The rifle may have an optical sight (reflective sights are considered optical sights) with a maximum power of 4.5 X installed on the receiver. Variable scopes with a maximum of 4.5 X are permitted. Only commercially manufactured scopes that were produced with a maximum magnification of 4.5 X and that have a maximum objective lens of 34 mm may be used. If an optical sight is used, the same optical sight must be used in all stages of a course of fire (changing sights is not permitted). The centerline of an optical sight shall be no higher than 3.5 inches above the centerline of the bore.

- Alternatively, the rifle may be equipped with issue-type metallic front and rear sights. Metallic sights, if used, must have an M16 type sight design with the rear sight in the carry handle and the front sight in the standard M-16 location.
- Butt-stocks may vary in length and be either fixed or collapsible. Collapsible or adjustable length stocks may be adjusted during an event, but butt-stocks that allow for other adjustments such as check-piece height or butt-plate location may not be used.
- Only standard A1 or A2 type pistol grips may be used.
- Quad rails or similar hand guards may be used.

(d) U.S. Rifle, Caliber 7.62 mm M-110 series - In all courses of fire and in all positions the standard 20 round box magazine or a reduced capacity magazine of the same external dimensions will be attached. The flash suppressor may be removed or the rifle may be manufactured without a flash suppressor. Barrel length may not exceed 20 inches, as measured to the end of the rifling in the barrel. The front sling swivel must be attached to the end of the handguard, and must remain in the 6 o'clock position no more than ½ inches from its original location. The sights must be of the standard design found on the M-16 series of firearms. Rear sight windage and elevation adjustments may be modified to allow finer adjustments. Plastic covers may be used on the mounting rails on the handguard.

(e) Any rifle or modified rifle not covered by NRA Rule 3.1, but permitted by CMP Rules is considered a service rifle in NRA sanctioned competition.

NRA Rule 3.3 NRA Match Rifle - A center fire rifle with metallic sights and a magazine capable of holding not less than 5 rounds.

(a) See Rule 3.14, Palm Rest.

(b) A service rifle may be used as a match rifle unless otherwise stated in the program. Any service rifle used as an NRA Match Rifle shall conform to Rule 3.1 as applies to trigger pull.

(c) Semi-Automatic rifle. M-16 or commercially equivalent rifles, configured or customized as NRA Match Rifles are exempt from the 4 1/2 pound trigger weight requirement.

(d) Any semi-automatic rifle that has an original factory design receiver/frame in excess of 3 1/4 inches below the center line of the bore may be used as an NRA Match Rifle.

(e) Other Nations - A center fire rifle with metallic sights. This rifle must meet the requirements to be a legal target rifle in the participant's home country, and may only be used by someone who is a foreign national, and can provide evidence thereof. (It would be wise for a foreign competitor to have a copy of his own country's rifle rule, or letter of certification from his National Association with him when competing under this rule.)

NRA Rule 3.2 Any/Tactical Rifle - A rifle with no restrictions on sights or accessories including Schuetzen type butt plates and palm rests except that it must be safe to competitors and range personnel. Ammunition will be restricted to no larger than .35 caliber. (Attention is directed to safety fan limitations of various ranges. Individual ranges may further restrict ammunition.) The provisions of Rule 3.16.1 apply to this definition.

(a) See Rule 3.4 and 3.14.

(b) Any rifle not meeting eligibility requirements of 3.1, 3.3., 3.3.1 or 3.3.2 is considered to be an Any Rifle.

Rifles may be either Bolt Operated or Semi-Automatic Rifles with Telescopic Sights with a magazine capacity of not less than 5 rounds. Ammunition will be restricted to no larger than .30 caliber. Any/Tactical Rifles should be capable of performing a mandatory reload (i.e. magazine exchange) during the rapid fire stages in order to fire the ten rounds per string of fire; however, if a rifle can only hold 5 rounds it will still be allowed to be used; however, the competitor needs to attempt to fire a total of 10 rounds if they want to receive the highest possible score.

14. CLASSIFICATION OF TEAMS:

Team classifications will be established in accordance with the current NRA System (Rule 19.12). Once the team member's names have been provided by the team captain, each member will be assigned their respective value. High Master = 5, Master = 4, Expert = 3, Sharpshooter = 2, Marksman = 1. The team's classification is determined by the total number divided by the number of firing members of the team. Any fractional figure in the team average of 1/2 or more will place the team in the next higher class. The team average will establish the classification of the team as a unit but will not affect in any way the individual classification of the team members. The Team Classifications will be divided into two divisions:

Division A (High Master, Master, Expert) or

Division B (Sharpshooter, Marksman)
